

The Deadbeat Chronicles

Jim Unterschine

Exposing Family Law as the exploitation of children for money and the indentured servitude of heterosexual taxpayers who dare to raise children since 1995

Deadbeat Chronicles 01

<http://www.gndzerosrv.com/Executive Pages/pdf/Untersshine Pages01.pdf>

James D. Untershine, GZS of MS

gzs@gndzerosrv.com, <http://www.gndzerosrv.com/>

Page	Date	Title
3	06-13-02	Protecting the Presidency IV
10	06-05-02	Protecting the Presidency III
11	06-03-02	Protecting the Presidency II
12	05-29-02	Protecting the Presidency

Recent articles by Jim Untershine at <http://www.gndzerosrv.com/Executive Pages/pdf/Untersshine Pages02.pdf>

Previous articles by Jim Untershine at <http://www.gndzerosrv.com/Executive Pages/pdf/Untersshine Pages00.pdf>

Protecting the Presidency IV

571

"See what is before your eyes and what is hidden from you will be revealed to you"

Jim Untersshine, GZS of LB, 06-13-02

The United States system of government is shown in the block diagrams that follow.

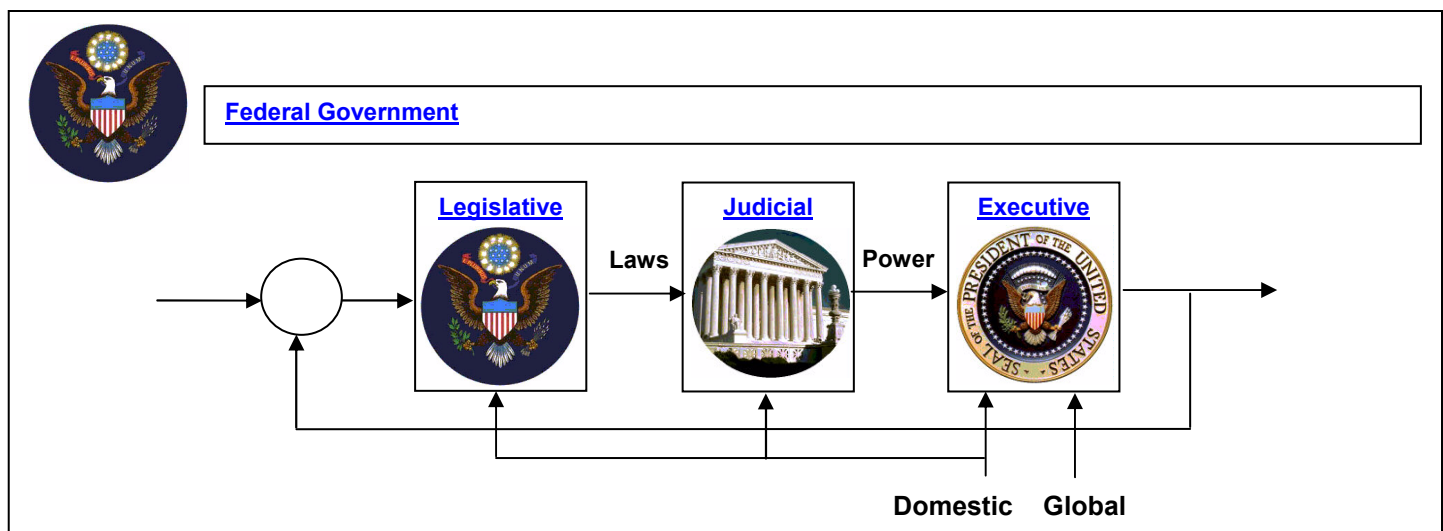

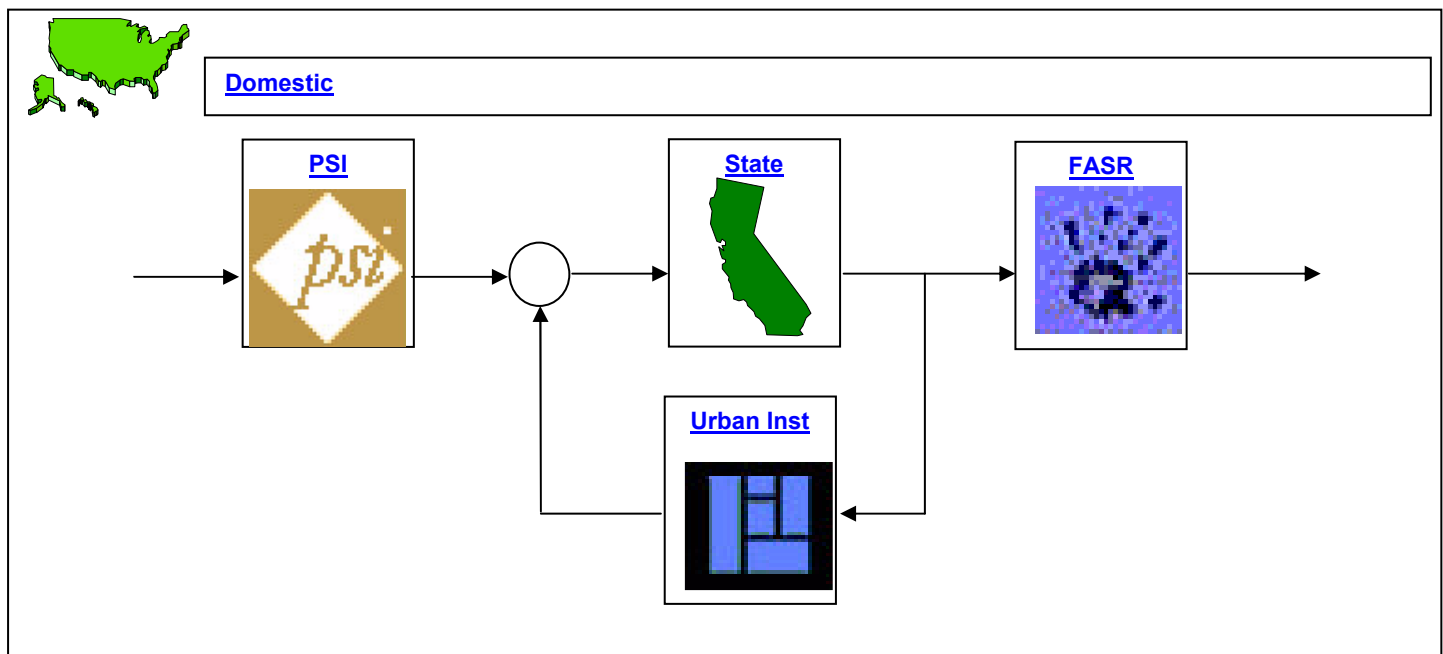

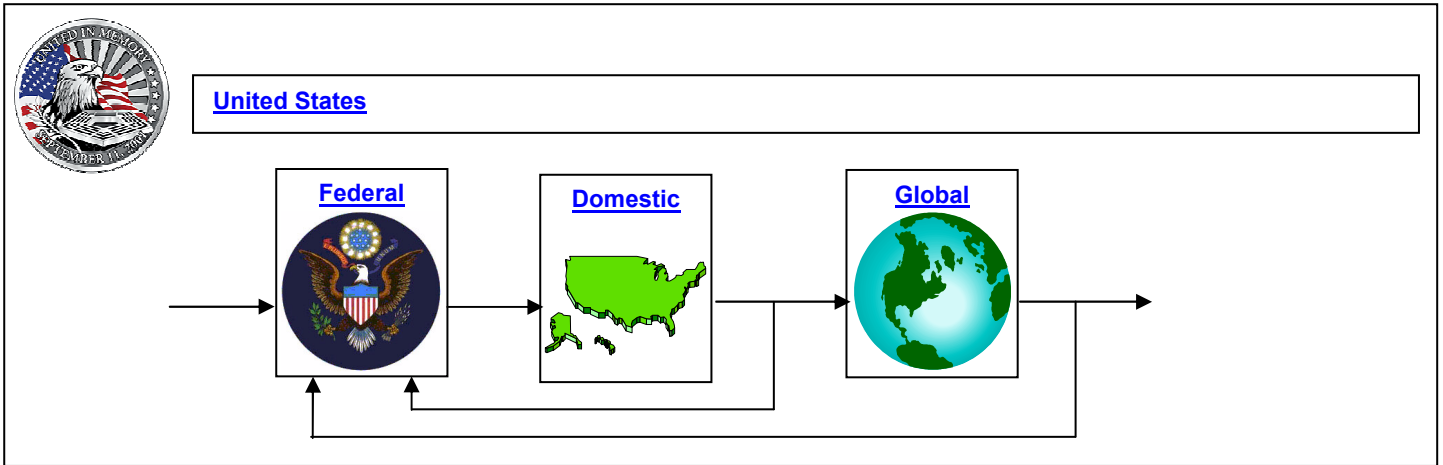

The Federal government uses domestic and global feedback to allow comparison with the input. The feedback regarding threats against our country is ultimately delivered to the Director of Central Intelligence (DCI). DCI utilizes agencies within the departments of Justice, Defense, Energy, Treasury, as well as some independent agencies. DCI seems to report to the Joint Chiefs of Staff in the President's Rank Cabinet, while DCI is also an agency within the President's Member Cabinet.

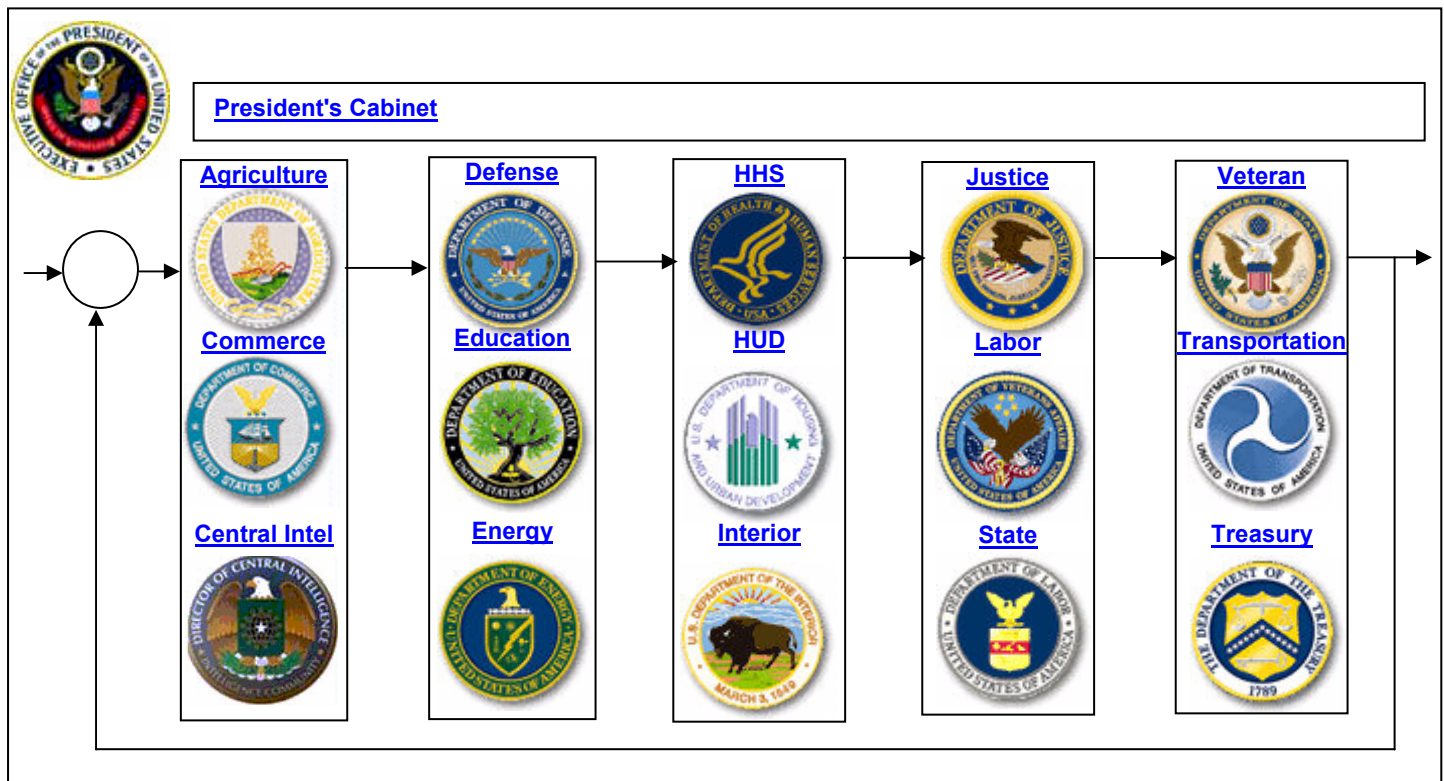

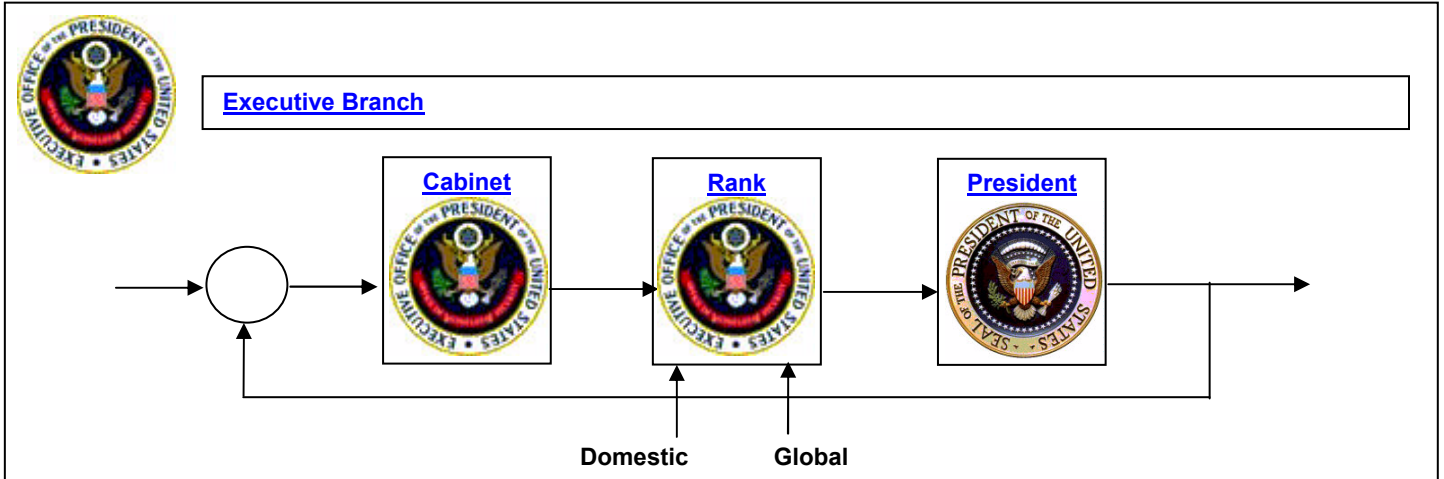

The new Homeland Office that is part of the President's Rank Cabinet and may seem to provide a redundant role with DCI. It would seem like the agencies that are proposed to make up the new Homeland Office should be made the President's eyes and ears within DCI and the departments that are already under DCI. Accountability of the Homeland Office will never be realized outside of DCI. The President may realize that separating the flow of feedback may allow unaccountability due to fragmented authorities. The delegation of authorities to two separate Rank Cabinet members that provide essentially the same function may pose a threat to national security.

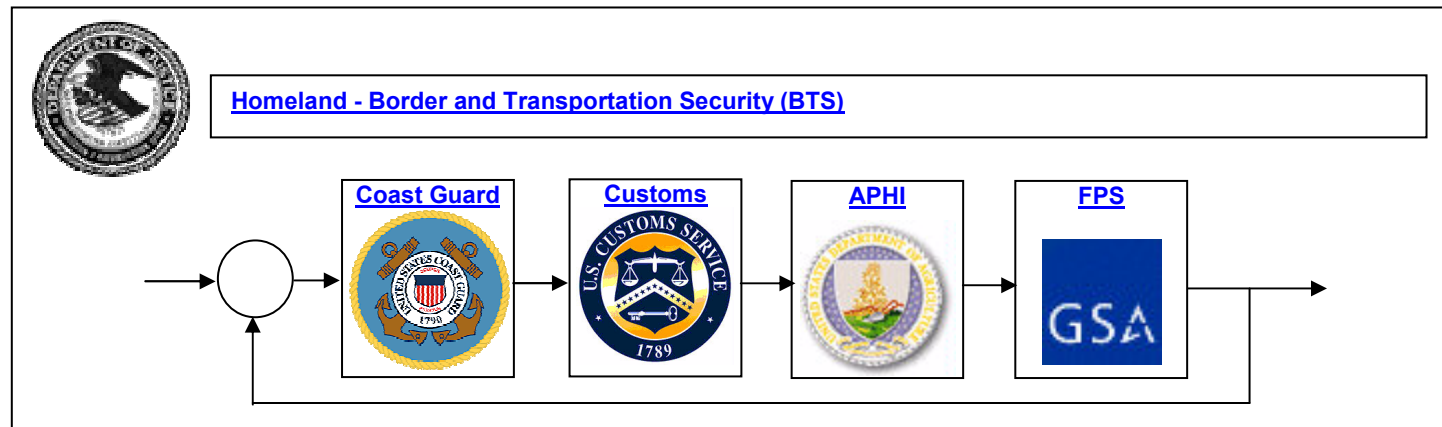

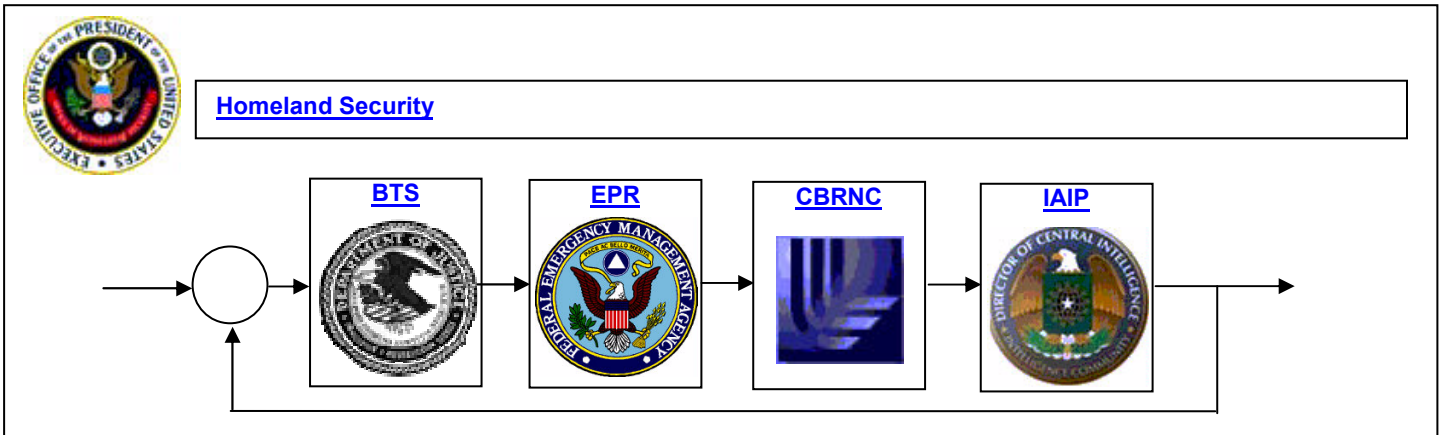

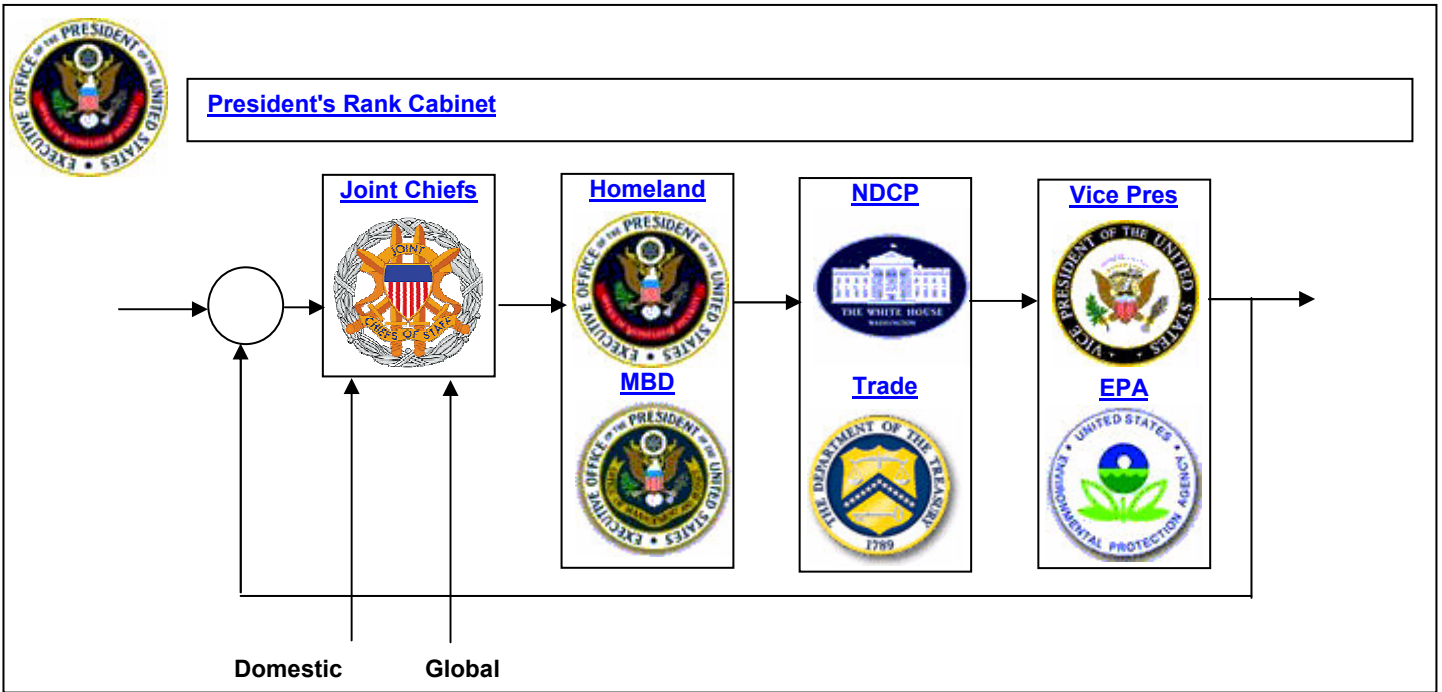

It is interesting to take a closer look at the domestic block that represents the Individual State governments. It can be seen that Policy Studies Inc. (PSI) is paid by State governments to subvert the Federal government input, while the Institute for Family and Social Responsibility (FASR) is paid by the Federal government to subvert the feedback to the Federal government. This situation completely insulates the State from control by the Federal government. The most sinister situation that could ever exist would be a proven connection between PSI and FASR. The collaborative efforts of PSI and FASR could allow them to completely control individual states without passing on protections offered by the Federal government.

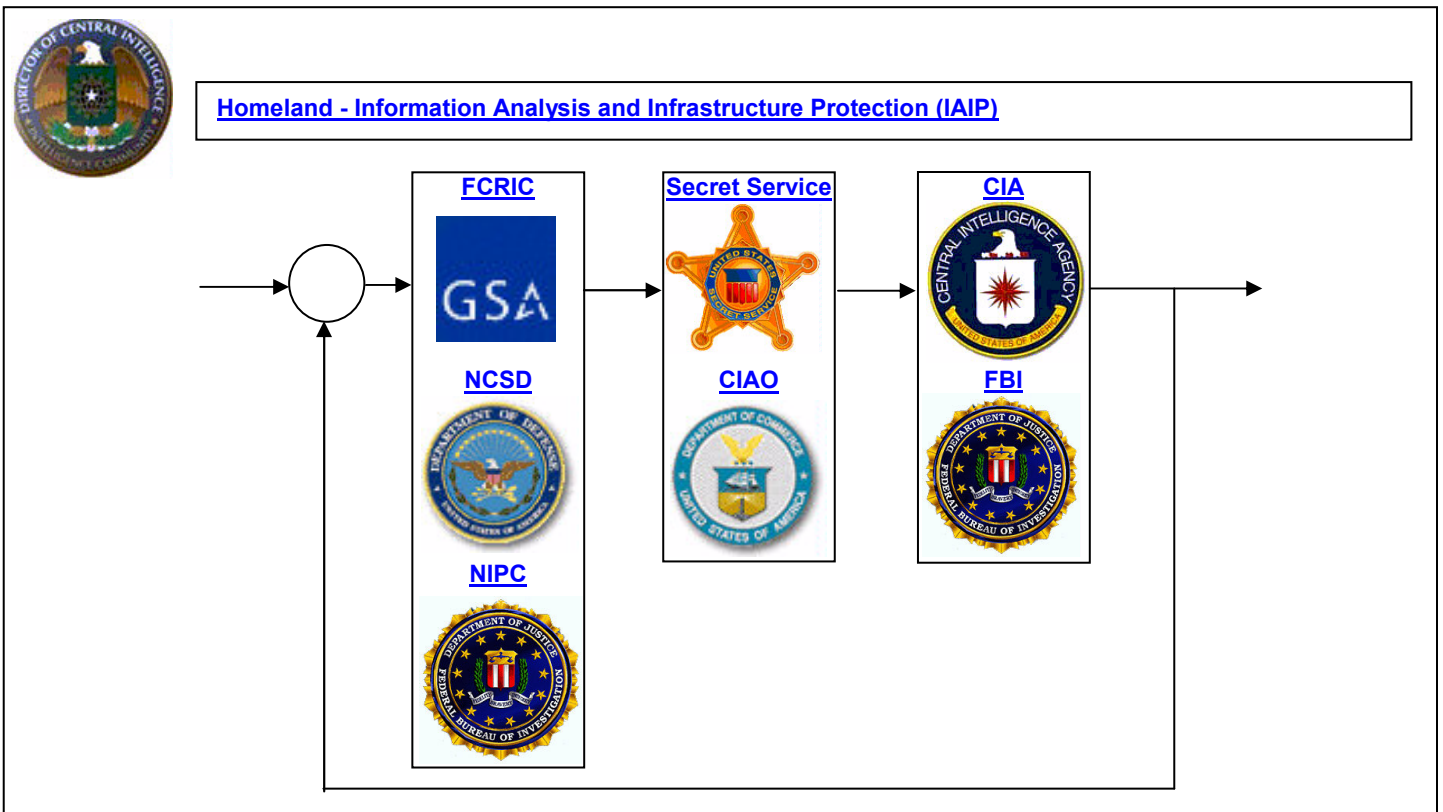

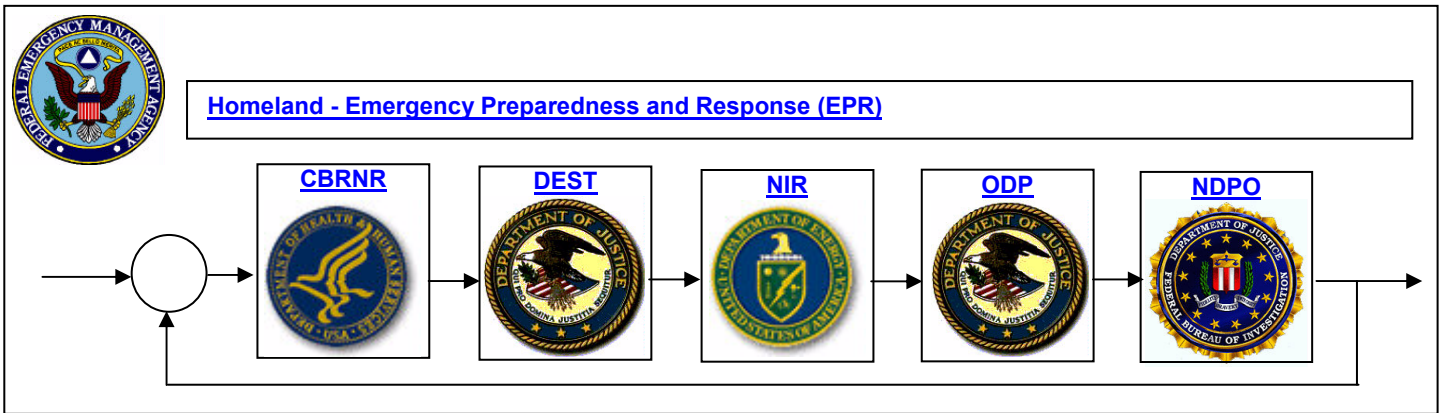

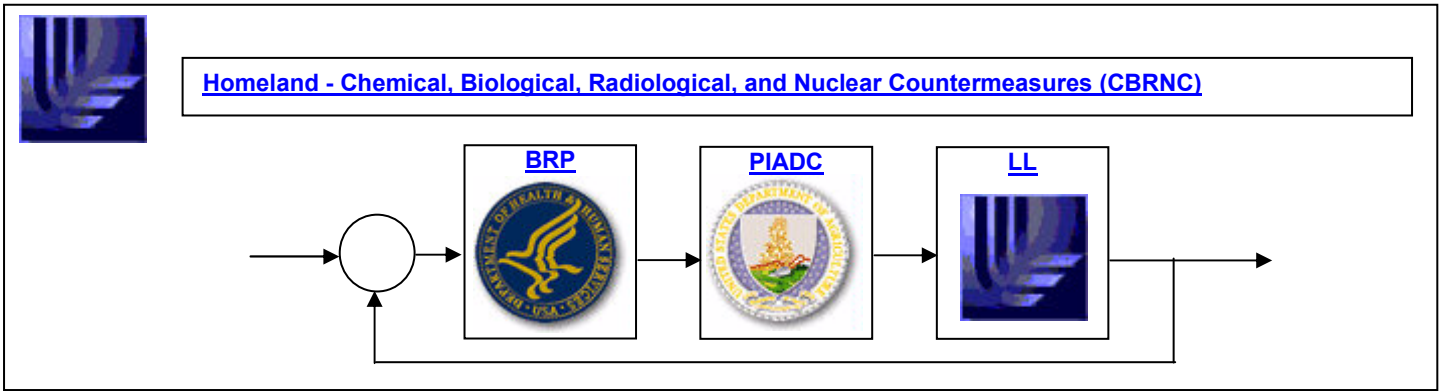

The President may consider including Ground Zero Services of Long Beach (GZS) to serve as the Sociological Warfare Response agency to provide preservation, protection, and prosperity of American families. GZS may replace the group of feminists from FASR and the profiteers from PSI attempting to turn the President's new welfare reform into a national disaster. GZS will eliminate the Department of Child Support Services (DCSS) by instituting a child support guideline in each state that will be "CUSTODY FREE"©. GZS will also serve as the clearinghouse for child support statistics for the Federal government.

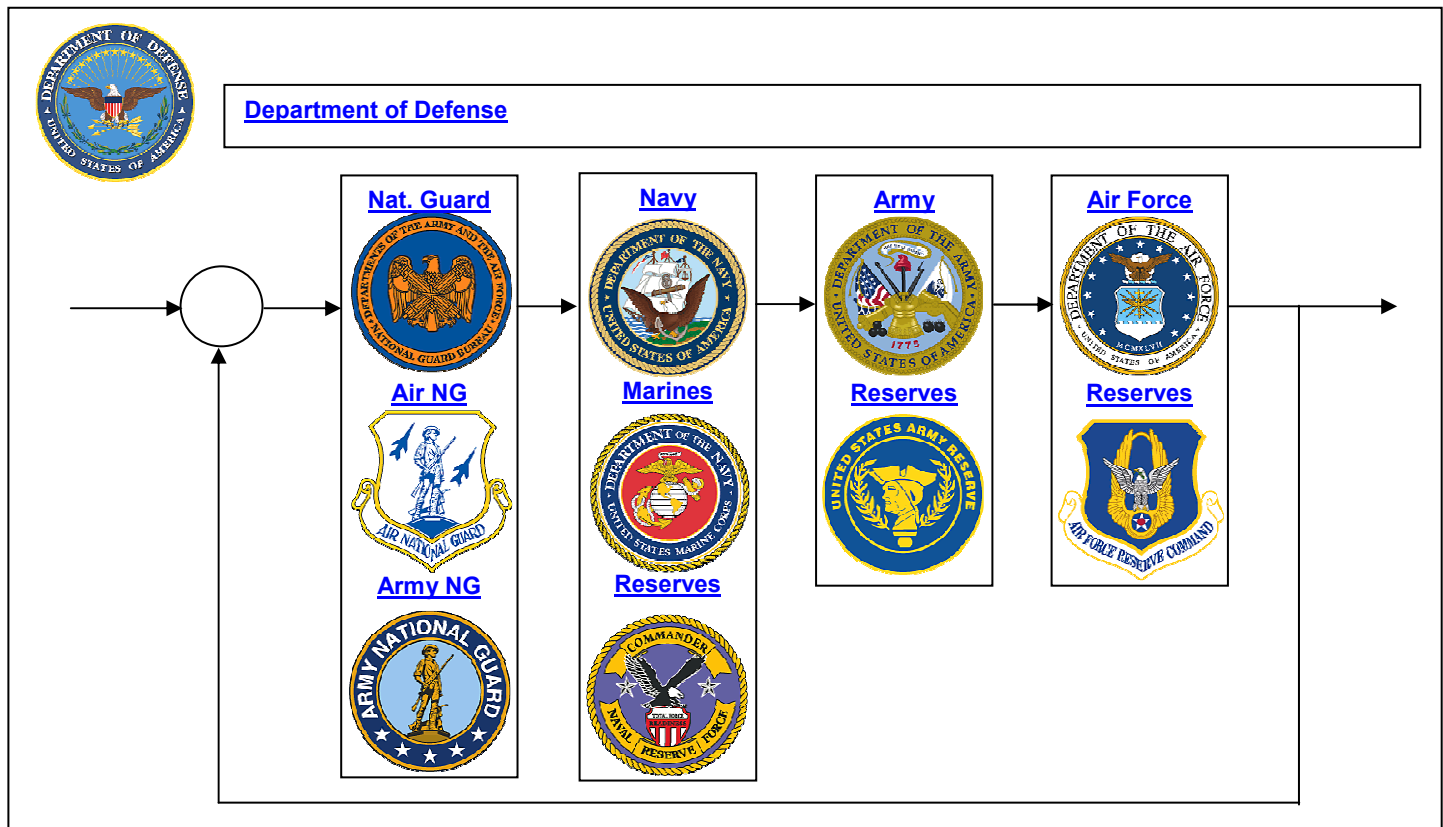

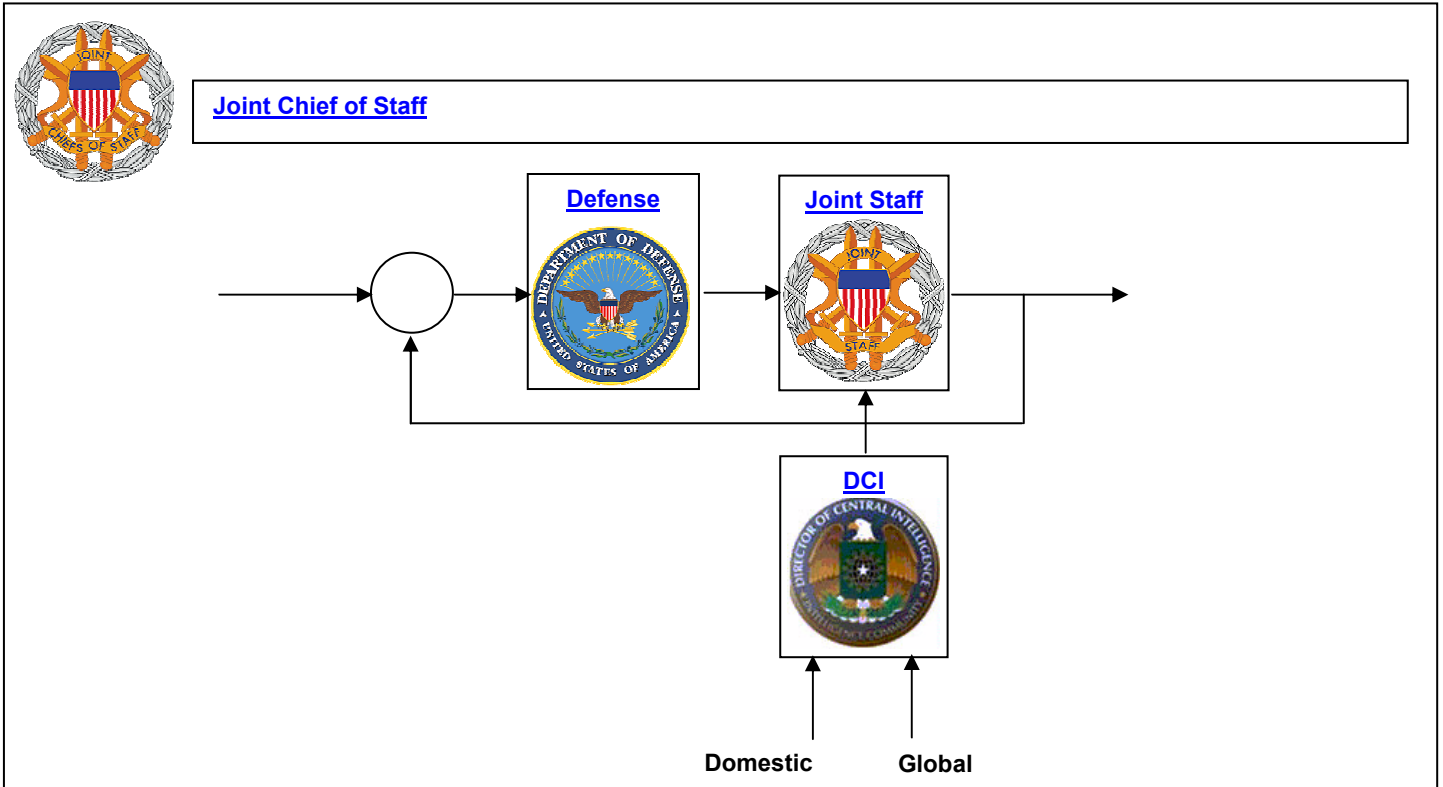

It is important for the President to see the big picture but also to have visibility of those things outside his control.
"See what is before your eyes and what is hidden from you will be revealed to you."

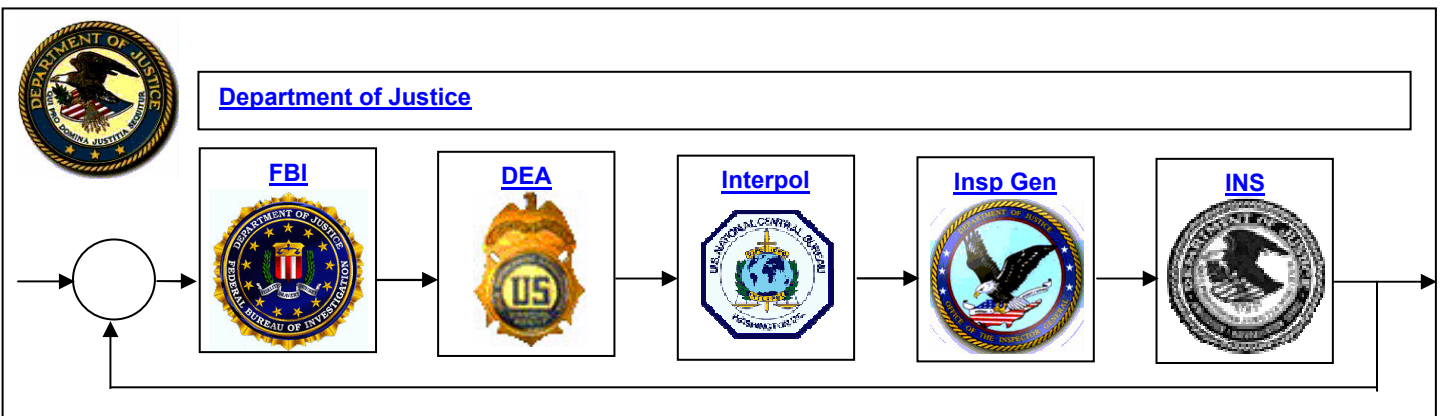

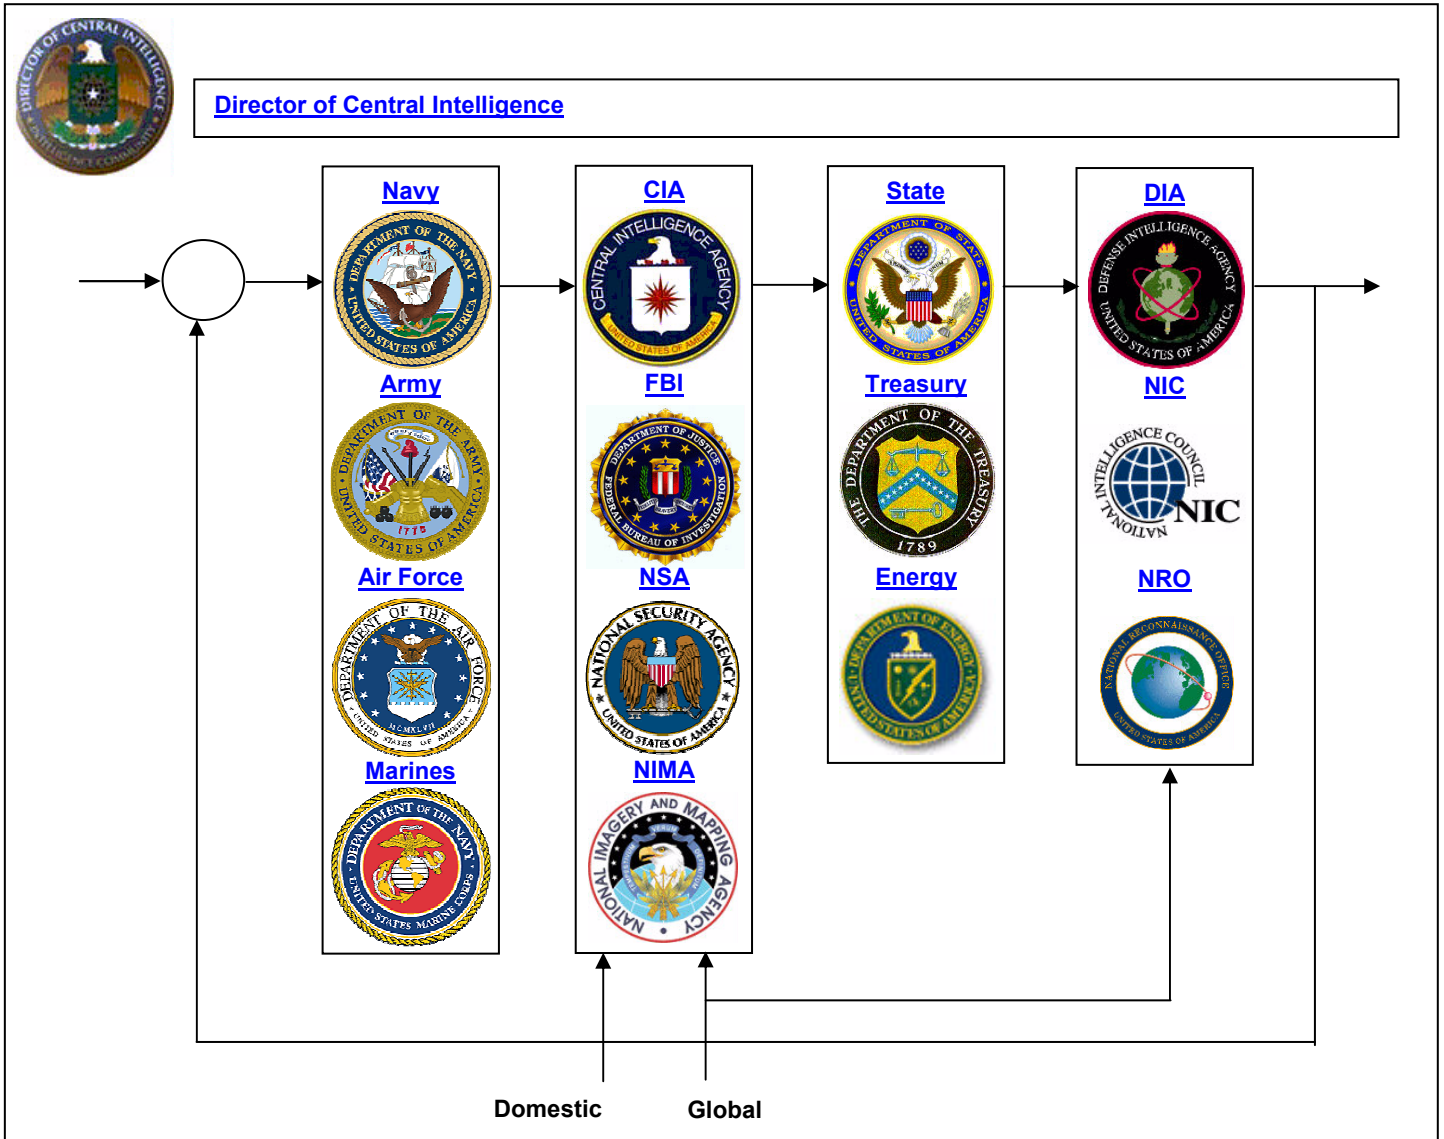

Protecting the Presidency III

554

"If people in glass houses throw stones, you have the right to throw them back."

Jim Untersshine, GZS of LB, 06-05-02

The President, responding to public outrage regarding mishandled information about terrorists targeting this country, has launched a congressional inquiry into the operations of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) and that of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI).

The CIA had information regarding known terrorists targeting our country, but rather than utilizing the time tested reason of "hot pursuit" they threw up their hands when the terrorists arrived in our country and passed the buck to the FBI.

The FBI had information regarding known terrorists targeting our country, but this when they realized that this information was in addition to other information that was gathered illegally they threw up their hands and discarded the whole package to exonerate the illegal activity.

The President recognizes the importance of "Intelligent Investigation", that sometimes involves jurisdictional freedom and random curiosity. The President may create a new version of "Martial Law" that allows the reins of privacy to be relaxed allowing the defense of this country to proceed. The President may recognize the importance of instant communication and become aware that protecting the lines of communication is essential not handy. The President may realize that the Internet is the answer to receiving a national consensus on issues, receiving warnings or concerns or support from individuals with a validation of the source and a timestamp of each correspondence. The President may realize that the Internet backbone must be "bullet proofed" and each citizen of this country must be assigned an e-mail address and access to their own 20 GB website.

After the Congress looks into the failings of the CIA and FBI in this boomerang blame game, the new freedoms will be granted and the Internet will be surfed with conviction. The FBI may search on "terrorist" and may find my website and issue the following statement:

"After a 15 minute investigation, the FBI has identified a terrorist organization that was summoned to San Francisco, CA and Los Angeles, CA prior to 9-11-01. This terrorist organization was paid by the state of California to provide a federally mandated review of the child support guideline for the Judicial branch (Judicial Council) of that state, and to "cook the books" for the Executive Branch (DCSS) of that state. This terrorist organization aspires to "Do socially useful work, have fun, and make money" while attempting to "create an environment where employees can take risks without being punished for mistakes". This terrorist organization boasts of targeting "49 states, Australia, Canada, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands" and we have asked the CIA for their help. These "evil doers" have attempted to inflict "sociological warfare" on states by raising the child support guidelines through the roof and denying federal protection of employees paying child support. This diabolical plot will turn the President's new welfare reform into a weapon of mass destruction. Employees trying to pay child support will be "bumped" by employers encouraged to hire and give raises to TANF recipients. TANF recipients, who ended their marriage to reap the benefits of the generous state child support guideline are being asked to get married again.

Information regarding this terrorist organization was communicated to the Ways and Means Committee on 7-4-01 in a submittal entitled "Family Law Design Review". Under the heading of "Level of Involvement" the following excerpt is found "Identify Policy Studies Inc., 999 18th St, Denver, CO and anyone who listened to a word they said". Why this committee ignored this information may be the subject of a new investigation.

The FBI has also identified a terrorist organization that has knowingly provided a false report of the state child support guidelines, mentioned previously, to the Ways and Means Committee. This terrorist organization is paid by the federal government to operate as the clearinghouse for Child Support Enforcement Statistics (CSE).

- Become aware of terrorists being harbored and funded by state and federal government.
- Link to a terrorist website and realize that the terrorist organization (PSI) operates outside this country.
- Link to a terrorist website and realize that the terrorist organization (FASR) provides erroneous data to the US House, Ways and Means Committee of this country.
- Discover a proposal sent to the Ways and Means Committee accusing PSI of subverting federal laws to the states.
- Contact the CIA and share this information concerning this international threat emanating from our own country.

Protecting the Presidency II

"Everyone gets what they deserve."

553

Jim Untersshine, GZS of LB, 06-03-02

As presidents come and presidents go we can compare their contributions to freedom. We can measure the realization of positive reforms or the style and manner of performance. Their recovery of lost ground in previous administrations or the foresight to save those of the future.

We find it amazing when certain Presidents are elected that embody everything we don't. Electing a self-centered womanizer who protested in Russia against our country leading the Gulf War. Electing a President who sets in motion the destruction of American families in the name of welfare reform. Electing a President who leads by example in demonstrating the up side of no-fault divorce. Electing a President who can smoke pot without inhaling and get his derby scrubbed without having sex. We can all breathe a collective sigh of relief when this special breed can finally be called a "lame duck", and we all wonder how Ross Perot lost.

A President trying to use oneupsmanship may try to improve on welfare reform.

- An ill-advised President unaware that noncustodial parents (NCP) are offered no protection from employer discrimination due to child support garnishments, may think it a good idea to encourage employers to promote or give raises to custodial parents (CP).
- An ill-advised President unaware that CPs were encouraged to end their previous marriage, might think it a good idea to encourage CPs to get married again.
- A well-advised President aware that the positive feedback loop just described is inherently unstable and will surely reform humanity, may think it a good idea to stop the currently proposed legislation until the previous legislation is implemented.

In congratulating the former President on his successful welfare reform, we hope that the President will successfully defend the wisdom of the federal mandate and highlight those protections demanded by law for the NCP paying child support. The President may make the distinction that Temporary Aid to Needy Families (TANF) was created to protect CPs while Child Support Enforcement (CSE) was created to persecute NCPs. The President may congratulate those States that have made the greatest contributions to the success of the existing reform:

"The State of California must be recognized as the shining example for our Nation to notice regarding welfare reform:

- California established 123% paternities relative to out-of-wedlock births in 1998 second only to Maryland with 155%.
- California reported a four-year cumulative total of 34,539 paternity establishments over and above out-of-wedlock births from 1995 to 1998 with Kansas trailing with 1,683.
- California established a child support guideline that exceeded the reported guideline by adding an extra 22% of an NCP's income (2 kids and $4,400 / month income) with Washington DC trailing by adding an extra 16%.
- California received $84 million in incentive payments from the federal government in 1998 regarding CSE with New York trailing with $27 million.
- California spent $515 million in administration cost in 1998 operating CSE with Ohio trailing with $203 million.
- California made a total profit of $198 million in 1998 regarding CSE with New York trailing with $56 million.
- California received $3.4 billion from the federal government in 1999 regarding TANF with New York trailing with $1.5 billion..
- California spent $6.3 billion in TANF expenditures in 1999 with New York trailing with $3.7 billion..
- California made a total profit of $307 million in 1999 regarding TANF with New York trailing with $249 million."

The numbers show that California has established a cash flow that excessively taxes this Nation's constabulary. They have misplaced their loyalties and have sold out America. Detached from the Nation, California will now slip into oblivion. Everyone gets what they deserve."

"The cause for supremacy is a bandwagon, and it invites a stick in your spokes."

Jim Untersshine, GZS of LB, 05-29-02

"Protecting the Presidency" is not a form of "plausible deniability" associated with "Watergate", it is a solemn oath that comes with being a citizen of the United States. The President of the United States is an extension of every American and serves to represent our country to the global community.

The President will use chosen advisors to allow accurate representation of our nation's interests. When these advisors lack the visibility to accurately inform the President, it is imperative to reestablish the truth to prevent national hypocrisy or other embarrassing faux pas.

Identifying the implements of our own creation and the ways and means by which they can be used against us is a very trendy pursuit these days. The President must be aware of the terrorist organizations being harbored by this country responsible for subverting federal laws (PSI) and those distorting the devastating effects of this subversion (FASR). The subversion of the federal mandate has led into temptation states and countries abroad. It has led to the implementation of a system that is committing "genocide" on our families and is a form of "sociological warfare" that is carried out in the name of our children.

The President has recently expressed many concerns, on behalf of our country, to the global community. Rather than pointing them out separately, perhaps the President should deploy our country's secret weapon by making the following statement:

"The Secretary of New York has been ordered to approve a default court order establishing child support payments of 20% of Osama Bin Laden's income (whatever we determine that to be, without prejudice to either party) multiplied by the number of parents murdered during the terrorist attack of 911. If Osama Bin Laden does not appear in civil court to vacate this judgement in 30 days, the Child Support Enforcement (CSE) of New York will receive 10% of this "child support award" and this debt will continue to grow until these children reach a certain age (whatever we determine that to be). His passport and licenses will be denied, his bank accounts will be seized and attached, he will be denied to gain employment, he will become a pilgrim with nowhere to go."

The global community may express outrage at this cruel and unusual punishment. The President may defend these tactics by explaining that our country does this to family men every day and we don't hear them complaining. They may accuse the President of betraying those ideals that he so adamantly professes and accusing him of possessing the hypocrisy to openly deny it.

A more animated Pope might have climbed over the table to get in our President's face after being accused of taking a blind eye regarding his subordinates exploiting children for sex in this country. The Pope may have taken a biblical tone and got eyeball to eyeball with the President, whispering:

"Marriage is a religious partnership and is a foundation on which a family can build. Your subordinates have done more to undermine marriage than anywhere else on the planet. Your country is willing to sacrifice this gift from the church in your exploitation of children for money. I would like to let you in on a little secret. Our children will judge us all."

The President may remember that day when he experienced the "disturbance in the force that seemed like thousands of voices cried out in terror, but then were suddenly silenced". The President led the Sarasota school children in a moment of silence. The First Lady instructed all parents to assure their children that our country will protect them. Ted Kennedy reassured our Country that education or public policy would not be deferred because of terrorism.

The President may become aware that the closure we seek regarding this heaping ration of conflagration and terror, is a deeper understanding of what provoked this classic example of misdirected anguish. The President may conclude that we could dedicate the lives of those innocent victims to a new global opinion:

"The cause for supremacy is a bandwagon, and it invites a stick in your spokes."